

WESTERN OKLAHOMA CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

Western Oklahoma Christian School was founded in 1987 under the vision of the following people:

Their primary intention was to provide a Bible-based academic program for elementary students from Christian homes. It was planned that this school would be an extension of the Christian training that children were receiving from their families and local churches. It was recognized by these early WOCS leaders that the public school system had drifted away from its Christian heritage. This Christian school was organized to provide an alternative to the secular educational institution.

The first WOCS classes were held in the Baptist Church in Bessie, Oklahoma. There were 22 students in attendance. These children were from the communities of Bessie, Clinton, Cordell, Corn, Dill City, and Weatherford.

In 1988, WOCS was moved to 710 S 19th, in a house owned by the 1st Mennonite Church of Clinton. This move to 19th Street provided stable classrooms for the students as opposed to sharing space with the Baptist Church Sunday School classes. There were 30 WOCS students during this school year.

Each year there was growth in attendance. With this increase in number, plus some concern over fire safety in the home setting, WOCS began searching for a more suitable location. In 1989, Mr. & Mrs. Irving Schmidt donated a piece of land on the south edge of town. A permanent school was built at 2901 Beverly Lane, Clinton, Oklahoma. The metal structure of 300 square feet included 4 classrooms and an administrative office. There were 40 students at this time. In 1992, pre-school was added.

In 1994, enrollment in particular grades was reaching the pre-determined limit. After consulting with the constituency, the Board initiated a building project to add 250 square feet to the 1989 structure. As money was available, this space was divided into 4 additional classrooms. In the 1994-95 school year, there were 71 students at WOCS. The staff included 5 full-time teachers, 1 part-time art teacher and a part-time secretary.

The school has a reputation for excellent scholarship, and Bible is taught as a regular school subject. Denominational instruction is not given, but Protestant beliefs are taught from an evangelical perspective. There are prayer times and chapel sessions during each school day. True to the vision of the founding leaders, the heart of the WOCS program is the integration of Christian principles into all areas of elementary school instruction.

The old school bell in front of the school was donated and added in 1991 by Elmer Quiring. It is the old bell from the Missouri one-room school, south of Weatherford. . The brick sign in front of the school was donated by Rueben Wedel of Cordell and the Hank Peters family of Corn in memory of Edna Wedel and Helen Peters.

During the 2010-11 school year, the board saw the need of a second Pre-K at the Weatherford campus. The enrollment was 117 students in all.

In 1997, WOCS applied for accreditation with ACSI (Association of Christian Schools international) and OPSAC (Oklahoma Private School Accreditation Commission). The work on the Self-Study began and a team came to visit in January, 2002. *In July, 2002, a letter was received granting accreditation through July, 2009.

In August of 2007, the WOCS School Board decided to follow God's leading and open a campus in Weatherford. We started with Pre-Kindergarten and Kindergarten, two teachers and 9 students. A building fund was started to raise money for an additional classroom wing at the Clinton campus. That school year we had 74 students at both campuses.

The school continued to grow and work on the re-accreditation was completed with a team visit during the 2009-10 school year. This was also the first year to use the new lower elementary classroom wing at the Clinton campus. WOCS had 93 students during that school year.

During the 2010-11 school year, the board saw the need of a second Pre-K at the Weatherford campus. The enrollment was 117 students in all.

When this school year is complete (2011-12) we will have completed our 25th year of changing lives for Christ through Christian education. After much prayer and consideration, the Board voted to start an Elk City campus of Western Oklahoma Christian School. We started a Pre-kindergarten and Kindergarten class with 2 full time teachers and 2 part-time teachers. We have 12 students there at this time and enrollment looks good for the 2012-13 school.

God has truly been faithful to WOCS over the past twenty-five years. There were many times that we didn't know where the money for the paychecks would come from and God would send a donation in the mail or I would find cash on my desk from an unknown donor.

I especially want to thank the teachers, staff and board through the years that have made WOCS what it is. Without their dedication and hard work and the parents who faithfully send their students, WOCS would not be the light in the community that it is.

May God continue to bless all who come through the doors of our school.

Serving Christ and his church family,

Joanie Quiring, Principal
