

Bag of Books

This week the first graders will start bringing home 3 books in a baggie. I have named this activity "bag of books." Some books in September are too easy, and some will be too hard. Your child should read what he/she can read, and you may read the rest to him/her. The students may read the same book more than once. Return the books when you are finished. Try to send the books back in one week. I have 40 bags. If you and your child read one bag a week, you should almost be able to complete all the books in one school year.
